

Are you worried about the cost of HR?

54%
of executives are worried about the total cost of managing employees

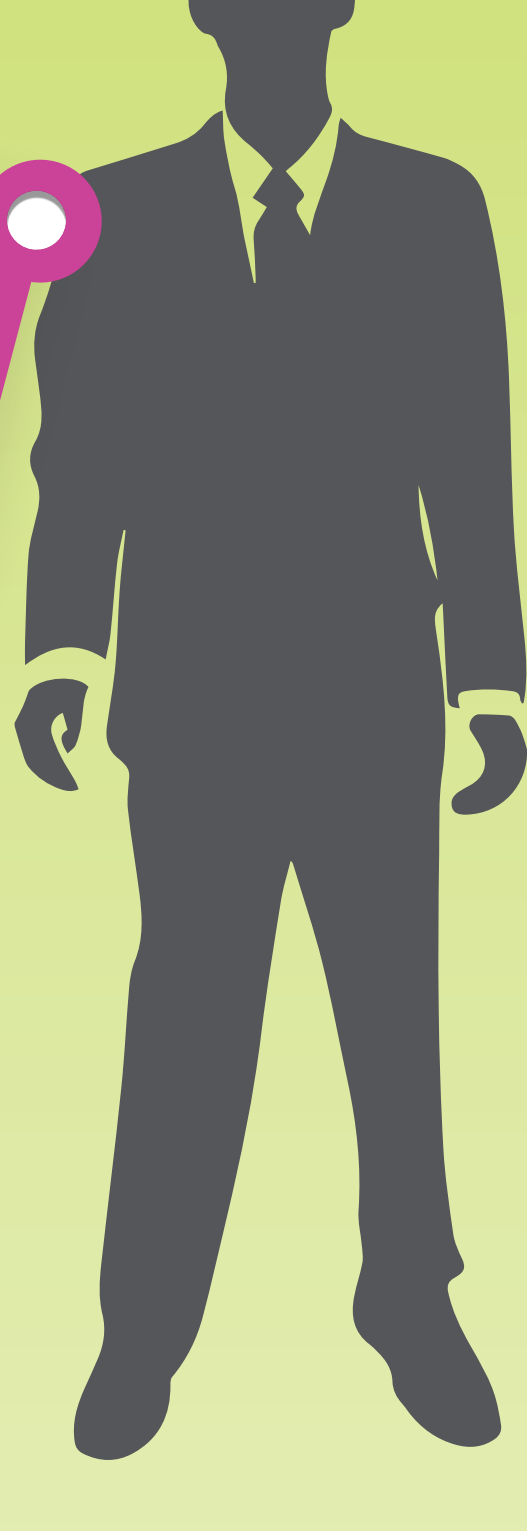

64%
of executives are worried about finding ways of lowering overhead costs

Do you know how much HR is costing?

£1500
per employee per year to manage HR administration

A Total Cost of Ownership analysis provides information that makes the cost structure of HR processes more transparent.

Adopting a winning approach

In-house solutions consistently fail to reduce the TCO of HR processes.

Do you know your big number?

A cost analysis, also known as a TCO study, will reveal the true costs of operating HR systems and allows the business to develop programs that optimise HR performance.

It's time to know your big number!

Contact ADP for more information at adp.co.uk